Why Buy Local?

Danielle Bee of Half Moon Blooms

at 901 Kearsarge Mtn Rd says: Did you know that OVER 80% of flowers in the US are imported from South American countries? In many cases there is no standard for fair pricing or chemical use. So, not only are they less fresh flowers, the carbon footprint of this process is depressing. Consider supporting local, SUSTAINABLE farmers! In addition to arrangements at Danielle's farm stand or ordered in advance, fresh Warner flowers are available from Kearsarge Gore Farm, at Farmer's Market on Saturdays, and at Warner Public Market, and don't forget the Lavender Fields on Pumpkin Hill!

COVID News

REALM briefing on ventilation

This research briefing, prepared by Battelle, provides the latest research on the effects of ventilation on the spread of COVID-19 that may affect building operations, policies, and procedures, including the following:

- One study suggesting that adding a supply fan into window openings may provide an easy, cost-effective way to improve ventilation.
- A model assessing the use of portable air cleaners (PACs) in reducing COVID-19 infection in poorly ventilated scenarios found that placing PACs in the center of a room provides the optimal location for reducing the risk of infection.
- Several studies examining the use of ultraviolet (UV) technology in minimizing the spread of SARS-CoV-2 in enclosed spaces.
